1931 Census of England

1939 Registers

The 1939 Register was created as the WW2 National Registration on the 29th September 1939

The 1939 Register was created in 1939 for the issue of registration documents and ration books shortly after the commencement of World War 2. As it was produced after the start of the war it does not include people who were member of; those conscripted into and volunteered for the Armed Services. Additionally After World War 2 this register was used as the registration of people into the newly formed National Health Service. This registers was 'updated' by the National Health Service until 1991 when the National Health Service Registration was computerised. The updates made under the National Health Service typically include; changes of surname by Marriage, corrections to Christian names (for example changing initials to full names) and recording the Deaths of individuals listed in the registers No changes of address are recorded are the Births of new individuals are not recorded.

The records of individuals are either open or closed. Open records can be viewed by the public and Closed records cannot be viewed by the public. Records are open if one of the following conditions applies:

- * The record is open if the person was born more than 100 years ago. This is the 100 year rule and means that progressively more records will be opened each year until they all become open in 2040.
- * The record is open if the person is deceased and the person's Death is recorded in the registers. In theory this means that the record for anyone listed in the registers and Died before 1991 should be open. However not all deaths before 1991 were recorded in the registers, and people who were in the Armed Forces in 1939 are not listed in the registers.

Records that are not open are closed. However members of the public can make requests to the National Archive at Kew to open closed records. To do this they must be able to supply a copy of a Death Certificate and the National Archives must be able to relate this Death Certificate to a particular individual in the 1939 Registers. For example the Death Certificate has the address where the individual died and the 1939 Registers have the address where the individual was living in 1939 so not all requests may be successful
