Introduction

Whilst this file is titled as “Unconnected Audley’s of Eastern Counties of Middle England including surrounding areas of England” it is not typical Audley Family narrative. It is a List of people with the Audley surname or a derivative of from various official sources that have not as yet been linked to any of the documented Audley Families (Referenced A to Z) mainly of England and local geographical areas.

This file contains a number of Birth, Marriage and Death records from various sources of people with the Audley surname, and also records the information contained in the General Register Office’s (GRO) Indexes, and also other official sourced records. Where additional information has been identified that has been included under the relevant entry. All these GRO Index records have been recorded in the Eastern Counties of Middle England.

The purpose of this ‘Unconnected Audley’s of Eastern Counties of Middle England including surrounding areas file is a List of references to act as a ‘holding file’ until the individuals in this file can be connected to any of the documented ‘Audley Families’ or sufficient information has been identified to create a new ‘Audley Family’.

(The spelling of the AUDLEY surname appears to be flexible. The spelling mainly appears to be interchangeable with examples:- Adley, Addley, Aidley, Allday, Audly, Awdley, Awdly, Oddily & Odley and also with other ‘close’ name variant being spellings.)

‘Audley Family UC’ – Unconnected Audley’s of Eastern Middle England Counties

The developed Audley Families that originated within this Geographical Area include

‘Audley Family QB’ of Bedfordshire, England’

‘Audley Family QE of Essex’

‘Audley Family QF of Sible Hedingham Essex’

‘Audley Family QH’ of Huntingdonshire, England’

(There were strict rules on who could be a King's Scholar at Eton. The Foundation Charter refers to an establishment of twenty-five scholars, increased in the Statutes to seventy. They were to be poor and indigent - though the later stipulation that their personal incomes were not to exceed five marks a year suggests that better-off boys were not excluded - and were not to be Sons of Villeins or suffering from any serious physical handicap, such as would prevent ordination. A preference was to be given to boys who came from places where Eton and King's had estates, with a preference for Buckinghamshire and Cambridgeshire, and "due respect" was to be given to those who had been Choristers at Eton or at King's. Those born outside England were not eligible. Every year the Provost of King's and two of its Fellows, known for the purpose as Posers, came over to Eton and with their Eton colleagues examined the scholars at the top of the school, and candidates for admission to Eton, placing their names in order on two rolls. As vacancies occurred during the year the next boy on the appropriate roll was summoned to fill it.)
